

Lions, Rotarians To Play Thursday

Plenty of Fun Promised at Annual 'Grudge' Game Between Hamlin's Two Service Clubs

Plenty of entertainment is promised for spectators at the softball game scheduled between members of the Lions Club and the Rotary Club next Thursday evening.

The game will be played in the city ball park and an admission charge will be made, but only a nominal sum will be assessed.

Proceeds from the game will be used by the clubs for their civic and service work, heads of the two organizations said.

Umpires for the contest will be Jimmy Sedberry and Chuck Abbott, it was decided at a meeting of the two committees Thursday morning.

The game was arranged after the Lions Club challenged the Rotarians to a contest, and the challenge was accepted.

It was voted to play all members of the two organizations during the exhibition, and no one but bona fide members of the groups will be eligible.

Rumors of foul play already were being heard Thursday within a few minutes after the date had been set for the big game. A member of the Lions Club, who refused to be quoted, charged that the Rotarians were

BAD FEELING DENIED

Reports circulated this week that there is actual bad feeling between members of the Lions and Rotary clubs, and that such feeling may break out into open trouble at the game next Thursday night, were denied heatedly by Pat Marlow, president of the Rotary Club, and A. G. Irwin, president of the Lions Club. "We are sure," they said in a joint statement, "that this talk has been over-emphasized. We know there have been a few harsh words passed, and some threats made, but we don't expect any fistfights or other rough incidents. But, to be on the safe side," they added, "we will have plenty of police officers on hand to prevent any unwarranted outbursts at the game."

planning to import professional ball players next Wednesday and vote them into membership of the Rotary Club for the sole purpose of appearing in the contest.

A Rotarian countered hotly with the assertion that the Lions were going to attempt to buy off the umpires. It was at this point that the two umpires were selected, following a heated discussion. The Lions spokesman had submitted the names of two other umpires, neither of whom was known here.

Time for the game has been set at 8:00 p. m., and it is expected that an overflow crowd will be on hand to witness the game—billed as the "game of the year."

Lions Hear Director Of Band Tell Plans

Walter P. Chalcraft, director of the Hamlin school band, told members of the Lions Club Tuesday that "we're going to do the best we can, when we can," in regard to the musical organization he heads.

Chalcraft was introduced by I. R. Huchingson, superintendent of schools, and discussed the progress being made by the 46 prospective members of the band.

Following his talk Chalcraft entertained with three vocal solos.

Jesse Burditt, head athletic coach, discussed prospects for the 1949 Pied Piper football team and invited members of the club to watch the training sessions.

The club voted to underwrite expenses of feeding candidates for the football team who live in the country, and to provide transportation to take them home from practice.

Marrell Lynch of Wewoka, Oklahoma, who is conducting a revival meeting in the Church of Christ, was a guest of the club.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Renfro of Refugio have returned to their home after having been guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Hakeley this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Holly Toler and family have returned from California, where they spent three weeks on vacation.

Mrs. Dan Jones and daughter, Bess, left Tuesday for Lubbock where they will visit Mrs. Jones' son, Dan, and for Hale Center, where they will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Reynolds. They will attend the Nazarene assembly at Plainview before returning to Hamlin.

Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Roland and family left Wednesday for a week's visit with his mother and sister of Fulton, Kentucky.

Navy flying boats MARS flew 52,500,000 passenger miles without an accident in 1948.

Italian Children Aided by U.N.

A young street musician plays to a cafe on a Naples piazza, while his crippled "partner" collects the money. Sights such as this one are common in postwar Italy, where lack of proper food and treatment is turning many youngsters into professional beggars. To counteract this situation, the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund (UNICEF) is now providing meals, clothing and medicine to almost 1,000,000 children and expectant mothers. UNICEF is also inoculating millions of Italians against tuberculosis.

Miss Temple Suffered Injury Last Saturday

Miss Eleanor Temple suffered an injury to her spine last Saturday morning when she fell while working in the yard at her home.

An X-ray examination disclosed a fractured vertebra, and she will be confined to her bed for several weeks.

Miss Temple's brother, Earl Temple of Lamesa, came to Hamlin and took their 91-year-old father to his home to care for him during the illness of Miss Temple. She is being cared for at the home of her sister, Mrs. Hibbs Milsap.

Baptist Youth Group To Conduct Service

Youthful members of the First Baptist Church will have complete charge of the Sunday evening program of the church, it was announced this week.

The youth choir will be in charge of music, with individual members slated to give special numbers. Devotionals will be given by young people and the entire program will be by members under 20 years of age.

Burial was in the East Cemetery, directed by Barrow Funeral Home.

The McMurry College Indians will take off on their 1949 football schedule loaded with depth and power when they play Tulsa University in Tulsa on September 17.

Three Hamlin men will be greatly responsible for the actions of the Indians this year. Boltin' Brad Rowland, a two-year all-Texas Conference back, and a little all-America honorable mention last season, will be in his half-back slot again this year. Rowland, whose backfield tactics ranked him as the best back in the state in the small college class, will get a chance to exercise his versatility more than ever this season. He will probably play at three of the four backfield spots.

Long Rangy Les Cowan, another two-year all-Conference man, and also honorable mention to a little all-America post in 1948, will take on the duties of his end spot again, and in addition will play guard and tackle.

Cowan ranked high in Texas small college circles as a pass-receiver last year.

Doyle Dean, the man who will field-general the Indians this season from the T-formation, is remembered by M. Murrians for his passing in several games last season. Coach Wilford Moore is expecting much of Dean this year, and Dean exhibited some fancy "flinging" in spring training this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Garrett, who formerly lived on a farm near Hamlin, have moved to a farm between Moran and Cisco.

Rites Wednesday For J. H. Dillard Pioneer of Area

Funeral services were conducted in the First Methodist Church of Hamlin Wednesday at 4 p. m. for James Howard Dillard, 86. Rev. Fieddie Cole of Abilene was in charge of the rites.

Mr. Dillard died in an Austin hospital Monday afternoon. He had been in poor health for several years.

A resident of this area for many years, the aged man was well known here in earlier days.

He is survived by four sons, J. H. Dillard of Lubbock, T. H. Dillard of New Braunfels, and B. H. Dillard and R. A. Dillard, both of Hamlin; one daughter, Mrs. C. H. Ross of Abilene, and one sister, Mrs. Ella Davis of Lott.

In addition are eight grandchildren. Mrs. Dillard died in 1943.

Burial was in the East Cemetery, directed by Barrow Funeral Home.

Rainfall in Hamlin during the past week was gauged at .84 of an inch, according to records at the City Pump Station. Last week's precipitation brought total rainfall for the month to 1.66 inches, the records indicated.

Magician Needed to Produce 7 Apartments

Hamlin needs a housing magician, Mrs. E. M. Wilson, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, said this week.

Mrs. Wilson was called on to obtain seven apartments for the crew of the Oklahoma Geophysical Co., and have them ready for occupancy by Saturday, August 20.

Housing in Hamlin is still a difficult matter, and it is almost impossible to obtain as many as seven apartments here, Mrs. Wilson said. She urged people who have living quarters available to get in touch with her at once to list the rooms or apartments.

North Side Singers To Meet Here Sunday

Jones County North Side singers will meet in the Calvary Baptist Church in Hamlin Sunday, August 21, it was announced this week.

The singing will be an all day event, with lunch to be served on the church grounds at noon. The afternoon program will get underway promptly at 1:30, it was said.

Singers from Jones, Fisher, Mitchell and Taylor counties are expected to attend the session. The public is invited to attend.

Sylvester Team Wins City Softball Crown

Winning two straight games in a scheduled play-off series, the Sylvester men's softball team took the championship of the Hamlin league from Celotex last week.

The teams met for the first game of the playoff last Thursday evening, when Sylvester won 8 to 7. In the second game last Friday evening, the plastermen were defeated by a 5 to 4 count.

Celotex, which had led in league standing throughout most of the season, retains the title of runner-up to the league champions.

Coach Jesse Burditt, who sponsored the league, said the season had been a successful one, and expressed his appreciation to all who participated and helped.

Good Production Indicated in Farnsworth Wildcat South of Hamlin; Others Completed

Possible development of an entirely new oil field near Hamlin loomed this week with the Gunsight production discovery south of town.

The well, drilled by C. U. Bay and Taubert Drilling Company, known as the No. 2 Farnsworth, penetrated the Gunsight formation Monday and shut down drilling operations for a test.

On a drillstem test at 3,125-58, with the tool open two hours, recovery was made of 750 feet of oil 150 feet of oil and gas cut mud, and no water.

Work Begins on Paving Project And Drainage

Construction work began this week on the long-planned widening project for North Central Avenue, and East Lake Drive in Hamlin, Holly Toler, mayor, said.

The work is being done under the direct supervision of the State Highway department, and not by contract, Toler said.

Included in the project will be the putting in of curb and gutter and widening of paving on seven blocks of North Central, and similar construction for four blocks on East Lake Drive.

Also included will be the construction of drainage for Central and Lake Drive. The drainage project will entail the cutting down of the surface on East Lake Drive to permit waters accumulating at the highway intersection to run eastward. Southwest B Avenue will be lowered to provide a channel to funnel the waters into the creek southeast of Hamlin.

Cost of the project for Hamlin's part has been paid into the city treasury by property owners adjacent to the area, and the state is planning to spend $36,000 for its share of the expense.

Lightning Strikes Two City Buildings

Two Hamlin buildings were damaged slightly by lightning last Friday afternoon during the electrical and rain storm that brought almost an inch of moisture, and relief from the extreme heat.

The dwelling house occupied by Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Irwin on North Central Avenue, was struck by a bolt of lightning which knocked a small hole in the roof and bounced to a nearby tree. The tree was split by the impact.

A stone cornice on the Church of Christ building was knocked loose and bricks in the top wall were loosened by a lightning bolt about the same time.

Mrs. Irwin and their children, who were in the house at the time, were not injured.

Mardell Lynch Guest Speaker at Rotary

Mardell Lynch of Wewoka, Oklahoma, who is conducting a revival in the Hamlin Church of Christ, was guest speaker at the Wednesday noon meeting of Hamlin Rotary Club.

Mr. Lynch discussed "A Christian's Point of View of Man." He said a man needed to be physically, mentally, socially and spiritually in order to have a well rounded outlook.

The club voted to participate in a program to furnish transportation for football players who live in the country, and who come into town for practice prior to school opening.

Several out of town Rotarians were present, and Dick Armstrong, son of Ted Armstrong, was introduced as a special guest.

MOVED TO CISCO

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Garrett, who formerly lived on a farm near Hamlin, have moved to a farm between Moran and Cisco.

OFFICE FORMS at The Herald.

The gas pressure was high, and operators were optimistic about possibilities of the area for developing a new production field for Hamlin.

Skelly Oil Company, No. 1 G. C. Shell, northwest of Royston, amended its application for permit to deepen to 6,200 feet, after the bit had penetrated to 5,100 without promise of commercial production.

An official gauge of 146.28 barrels of 41 gravity oil in seven hours has been filed for the No. 2 Port H. Williams, offset to Ellenburger production. The well was drilled by Texas Pacific Coal & Oil Company. Production was from the open hole at 5,960-81 feet. The well is located northwest of Hamlin just south of the Pardue Ellenburger discovery well.

Dr. W. H. Bryant completed the No. 5 Poe Tuesday with an estimated production of 150 barrels. The formation was running about 22 feet lower than in other nearby tests.

The well was drilled to 4,785-800 feet with rotary. Following completion of the well, the rig was being moved Thursday to the Towne lease for another well.

General Crude Oil Company, moved in Thursday for a test on the joint Flores-Lopez lease, immediately north of the Dr. Bryant well. The test will go to 5,000 feet.

Completion was reported on the Round Top Oil Company, No. 6 Sterling Oil & Gas Company, offset well, 10 miles west of Hamlin. The well gauged 309.04 barrels of 42 gravity oil in 24 hours through 80 perforations at 4,700-40 feet.

Humble Oil & Refining Company was drilling below 5,600 feet in the No. 1 Jeanette Nickless B. Ellenburger wildcat three miles southwest of McCaulley. The well is scheduled for 6,500 feet.

Four Grid Teams Slated to Play For City Schools

Hamlin schools will have four football teams this season, if plans of Jesse Burditt, head athletic coach are materialized.

Burditt announced this week that Bob Nunnally, recent graduate of Texas A&M College, has been employed as athletic mentor for the Elementary schools.

Nunnally is a native of Ballinger, where he was prominent in athletics, and played stellar football for the Aggies.

It is planned to have two teams in the Elementary school division, made up of players from each of the 7th and 8th grades. The two teams will train separately, but will play together in matched games.

Regularly scheduled games for the High School Pied Pipers will be played on Friday nights during the season, Burditt said, and the High School B squad will have slated games on Saturdays. The grade group will play all games on Thursday nights.

Burditt, with his assistant, Vernon Townsend, have been putting the Piper candidates through hard training during the past week, getting them in condition for the first game of the season. The first contest will be with Stamford on the home field Friday, September 9.

35 Pounds of Fish Taken on Trot Line

A catch of 35 pounds of blue catfish was being exhibited in Hamlin Wednesday morning by J. C. Cauble and Jap Kemp, who baited a trot line and left it overnight. Included in the catch were fish that weighed from one pound to 11 pounds for the largest.

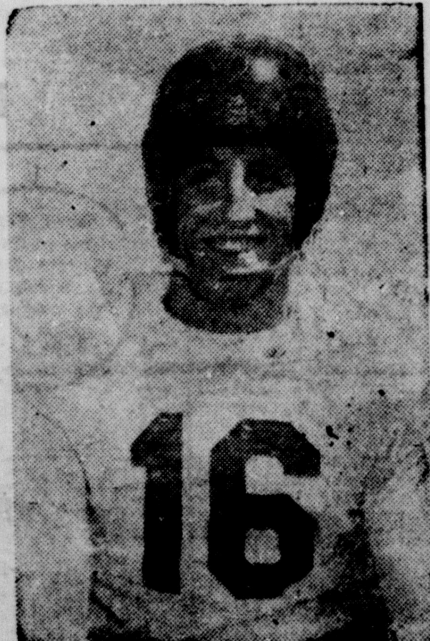

Cauble said fish in the lake are biting now and numerous fishermen have had "good luck" in recent weeks.

Navy squadron eight exceeded by 1,444 tons its December quota in the Berlin Airlift.

What Age is Too Old?

The question of when is a man too old to serve his community as a member of the school board, or some other group was raised this week in an anonymous letter from a reader of The Herald.

"Very few, if any, men," the writer said, "need to be on the school board after they pass 40, and it is doubtful if any should be allowed on it after they pass 50."

The writer doubtless assumed that the "advanced" age of 40 is only a step from senility, and that those hardy souls who manage to survive after such an age are so battered and bruised by the sands of time that their future usefulness is dubious.

However, the opinion of the writer differs from actual facts in that many men have not attained their best years of productivity, both in ideas and in practical application until they have passed their 40th milestone.

Knowledge is one thing and wisdom is something else. Knowledge can be obtained from schooling, which is provided for the very young, but wisdom comes only from experiences and from within the soul.
Thus the acquiring of knowledge may cease at a comparatively early age, but the attaining of wisdom is a lifetime job.

In these troublous times the world sorely needs leadership. It needs the vigor and enthusiasm of youth, and it needs no less the mature advice and sober counsel of those who are older. No one age has a monopoly on wisdom, nor does any age have a corner on leadership. God has decreed that those of all ages can fit their efforts and their ideas together to give humanity a blending of the qualities of every age. Such cooperation is essential now while a weary world is trembling on the brink of racial suicide.

There are some men unfit for public service at 30, while others are able servants long after they have passed the "three score and ten" mark.

And so, after all, it is not a matter of how many birthdays an individual might have had, but whether he has maintained his social and intellectual equilibrium in the face of buffetings such as mankind has known during the 20th century.

Men who retain their proper perspective, and who refuse to bow to the blind-geonings of fate can serve in great capacities long after the vigor of youth has passed from their physical bodies. Men of that type are ageless and their influence for good increases in direct ratio to the number of years God permits them to remain among their fellowmen.

The Cost of Medical Care

The main argument used by proponents of compulsory government health insurance is that many millions of Americans can't afford medical care.

That argument falls flat on its face in the light of the facts. According to the Brookings Institution, which makes authoritative surveys on various problems, medical care costs the average American family about 4 per cent of its income. By comparison, taxes, direct and indirect, take 20 to 30 per cent of that income!

Furthermore, the compulsory insurance scheme would cause a very heavy increase in the tax burden. No one knows how much it would cost. Government officials have estimated the annual bill at $4,000,000,000 —and estimates such as this are almost always low. Other analyses place the cost at $6,000,000,000, and more. At best, the medical bill of the American people would be doubled, and it might be tripled. And the fact that we would pay for it through payroll and other levies, instead of by writing out a check to the doctor, wouldn't make it any less burdensome.

Contrast this with the non-profit medical care plans, which now cover some 55,000-000 people, and which are growing at a healthy rate. An average plan over the nation, giving surgical, medical and hospital protection, costs $2.50 a month for an individual and $5.50 for a family—less than most of us spend for such non-essentials as cigarettes. And these voluntary plans do not put politics into the practice of medicine.

It is true that there are indigent people who can't afford to pay anything for medical attention. Here is where government can help—and it can do it without starting us on the downhill road that leads to socialized medicine. One way would be for the government to pay for these people's memberships in the approved, non-profit plans. The advocates of compulsion haven't a leg to stand on.

'Something for Nothing' Is Just Delusion Used to Enslave People

BY GEORGE PECK

"Something For Nothing" is a phrase that has been much bandied about in recent years. Editors, economists, columnists, politicians have waxed eloquent in deploring the modern tendency of asking Uncle Sam to dispense his bounty with no thought as to how and from whom the chin-whiskered gent obtains the bounty to dispense.

It seems to have been thoroughly proven that no government can give anything to its citizens that it first does not take away from them.
Then, why do so many American citizens still clamor for more and more hand-outs from Washington?
Why does agitatin continue for free medicine, public housing, farm subsidies, Federal aid to education, to mention only a few of the proposals to add to the already onerous tax burden or to increase the already staggering Federal debt?

The citizen who is seeking "Something For Nothing" may for a transitory period achieve his ambition, but sooner or later he will realize he has been chasing a "will o' the wisp." He will wake up some sorry day to find that what he really has achieved is to have gotten "Nothing for Something."

Here in America, the individual citizen has enjoyed a great measure of freedom—the greatest in world history. It has been his most precious asset, transcending every material wealth he may have gained. As a matter of fact, a maximum number of American citizens has been able to gain material wealth, because, first of all, they had personal freedom—freedom to work where and at what they chose; freedom to save and to risk their savings.

When our Federal Government, or any other government, makes a gift, it must impose rules and regulations upon the recipient. Right there the citizen relinquishes a part of his most precious asset—personal liberty. As he accepts more and more from his Government, he loses more and more of his freedom.
Then when the Government has been completely socialized, all personal liberty vanishes into thin air.
With freedom of enterprise completely wiped out, his paternalistic Government then finds it has very little or no largess to hand out to its citizens—but the controls and regulations remain. In grasping for "Something For Nothing," the citizen at last learns that what he has done has been to get "Nothing For Something."

At any rate, that is what has happened throughout history in every nation that has embraced socialism. It is happening in England today, even though that country has gone only part way on the road toward complete socialism of its industries and natural resources.

The London (England) Sunday Times in a recent issue had the following terse comment to make regarding the sad state of His Majesty's loyal subjects:

"The walls of the prison close in day by day; the area of enterprise shrinks. Day by day the ceiling of opportunity is lowered. We prisoners are charged more for the expense of the multiplying jailers. Food and drink diminish in quantity and quality month by month. There is no incentive to bold undertakings except a heartless propaganda which urges all dogs collectively to jump the moon while keeping chained with a spring or heart in him. Socialism, as now interpreted here in England, is competition without prizes, boredom without hope, war without victory, and satisfaction without end."

The English people in striving for "Something For Nothing" are beginning to find out the futility of such expectation, and to realize that they are getting "Nothing For Something."

TOO BAD

Riding on the crest of his popularity, a well-known prizefighter dipped his fingers into every money-making endorsement scheme that was pushed in front of him.
And there were many. There were even autobiographies in the papers.
"Hey, Sluggo," an acquaintance greeted him one morning. "I just read your article in this morn-ing's paper. Boy, it was a honey."
"Yeah," replied Sluggo, "so they tell me. You know, sometimes I'm sorry I can't read."

HE'D BE READY

The man was asking the lady for a dollar because he lost his family in the "overflowing of the Mississippi river."
"Aren't you the same man who came around last year with a tale about losing your family in the Florida flood?" she demanded.
"Yes, mum," he agreed readily.
"Aint I unlucky? If you'll give me a dollar, I'll have just enough to get me a second-hand rowboat."

ROUND TRIP

The ragged old beggar was like a ghost of the forgotten past when he sidled up to a New Yorker one evening and hoarsely whispered a request for a handout.
"I need a dollar," he explained,
"to get out to California. I've got a sick uncle out there who needs me badly."

The New Yorker promptly took out two one dollar bills and handed them to the beggar. "Here," he said, "take two dollars. You might want to come back."

Writer Offers Plan to Enable All of Us to Retire at Birth With Incomes

By DR. ALFRED P. HAAKE

Sometimes error is more effectively exposed through ridicule than through straight attack. That may be why someone sent me a copy of a new plan for social security. I do not know who wrote it, but I want to give it to you and then comment briefly on its significance. Here is the plan:

"RETIRE AT BIRTH" PLAN

"Every new-born child in the United States would receive from the Government a promissory note for $20,000 at 3 per cent interest, payable in 20 years. The 3 per cent, or $500 monthly, would go to the child's parents until the child was 20. Each year during these twenty the Government would pay $1,000 into a sinking fund for the retirement of the note, and when the child reached the age of twenty the Government would give him or her the $20,000 it had paid into the sinking fund.

"Boys and girls of 20 who elected to marry would have a capital of $40,000, and work would be forever unnecessary if they would undertake to have at least four children, because they would receive $50 a month for each child until it reached the age of 20, and there would be enough left of their own $40,000 after that to care for them in their old age.

"The authors of the Retire at Birth Plan (RABP) urge these advantages over the OARP (Old Age Retirement Plan) (Townsend): people of all ages would be for it; nobody would ever have to work again"; it would cost only $1,600 ($600 interest plus $1,000 for retirement) per person instead of $2,400 annually, the cost of the Townsend plan; and it would automatically end the agitation for birth control."

Let me supplement the plan by suggesting that the parents, in addition to the $50 from each child, or $200 a month for four children, could invest their $40,000 in government bonds at 3 per cent and have an additional income of $100, or a total of $300 a month.

Then they could leave the $40,000 to be divided among the children after they died, and each of their children would start off with a capital of $30,000 instead of $20,000, and each married couple could have $60,000 instead of a mere $40,000
And so on.

Now, how does THAT strike you as a plan? Isn't that even better than mere socialization and reduced work per hour as being tried out by England and advocated by liberals in the United States? If it is true, as must be assumed by the various "reduce work and increase pay" planners, that we can have more while doing less, so long as the Government underwrites it, why not go the whole hog and adopt the "Retire at Birth Plan?"

Perhaps it does not occur to the Government financed retirement beneficiaries of any of the plans a particle of good to have all the money in the world without having to work for it, if these were no goods to buy with the money.

Perhaps they have not asked where the money would come from to pay the interest and retirement funds, and they would be shocked to be told that each child, in the end, would have to pay the government more than $1,000 for each $1,000 it received from the Government.

Somebody would still have to do the work necessary to provide the food, clothing and shelter for the lucky retirement people and perhap we would all stop living if we stopped working.

But that is a mere detail and not serious in the eyes of the planners, so long as people are foolish enough to vote for the pied pipers who offer retirement without work, and promise to furnish you a home for your neighbor to pay for.

LOOPHOLES in the Law

By WILL WILSON

Past President, Texas District and County Attorneys Association

(Editor's Note This is one of a series of short case histories, all taken from court records, showing how legal loopholes often enable criminals to escape punishment in Texas.
Will Wilson is chairman of a special steering committee of the State Bar, which is working for revision of the antiquated Criminal Code and Code of Criminal Procedure in order to eliminate these loopholes.

John and Mary had been drinking heavily and were, in fact, drunk. In this condition they got into an automobile, with John driving, and rode out into the country. Out of town a few miles, John turned off of the public highway and drove onto a farmer's private property.

As the car was weaving and skidding along the farmer's road, John saw a pick-up truck coming along the road toward him. The pick-up was driven by the farmer, and he had his three small children in the back.

John was too drunk to avoid the pick-up. He smashed into it. The farmer's three children were badly injured and the truck itself was demolished. In an argument with the farmer following the accident, John admitted that he was drunk.
He was charged with driving while intoxicated and brought to trial.

He was acquitted and went scot-free because he was driving on a private road—the farmer's own road — and not on a public highway.

The State Bar of Texas is working to get rid of the legal loopholes that made such an outcome possible.

An Egg Spot's Better Than A Cocoa Stain

Morbid Fear of Disease Causes Many Illnesses

Among a certain and rather extensive group of self-centered persons symptom hunting unfortunately is rather popular. Because of a too detailed study of so-called health literature of the alarmist type or on account of a recent death in the family, introspection develops to a morbid degree. The result is an entirely unfounded fear for all sorts of disease possibilities. Many becoming victims of this warped psychology develop brain and nerve exhaustion and in extreme cases even become affected mentally, stated Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

Of course, it is entirely proper to have a normal regard for personal well-being. To maintain vitality and to prevent disease is a logical pursuit for every one. But it most decidedly must be kept within bounds. When one becomes obsessed with the subject, concern for health has overstepped the limits.

For all practical purposes after giving reasonable attention to diet, personal sanitation, sleep and exercises, and assuming that one's bodily limitations as defined by the family physician are appreciated, the average person can dismiss the subject of health. This, plus the annual physical examination should adequately cover the situation.

On the other hand, conditions are bound to arise where actual disease symptoms manifest themselves. It will then be up to the doctor to decide what the trouble, if any, is and for the patient to abide by his judgement.

In short, symptom hunting as a hobby is a dangerous matter. One should stay away from it. It is neither safe nor healthy to do otherwise.

Horace Crow, student in Kansas University at Manhattan, arrived here Saturday to visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Crow between terms.

A man and his wife were arguing. And another thing I want to tell you," she said. "I've noticed every time you talk you say my house, my automobile, my chair, my shoes—everything's yours. You never say ours. I'm your partner. I'm your wife. It should be ours." The husband paid no attention to her, just kept looking around. "What are you looking for?" "Our pants."

What every party-line telephone user knows...

EVERY PERSON WITH A PARTY-LINE telephone at home knows at least three things about the service.

He knows the line must be shared fairly to be useful to everyone—just as a street is shared by those on it.

He knows he appreciates courtesy from others on the line—such as not interrupting, and recognizing his emergency needs for the line now and then.

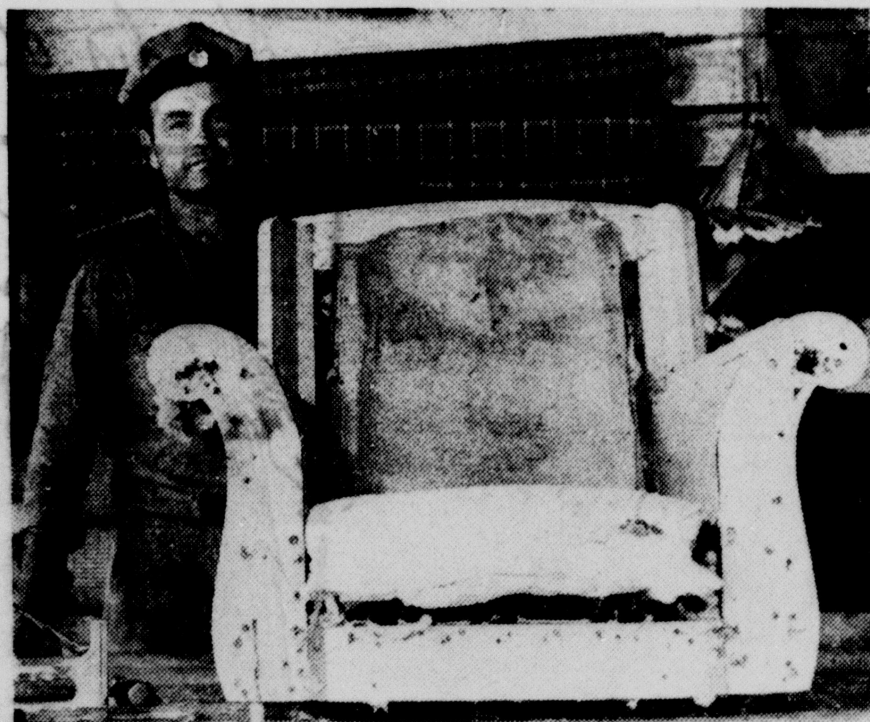

He knows whether party-line service meets his needs. About half our customers have always preferred party-line service, even before the war, when they could have had individual lines.

Today, out of each four families with telephones, about three have party-line telephones and one of them has asked for a different type of service.

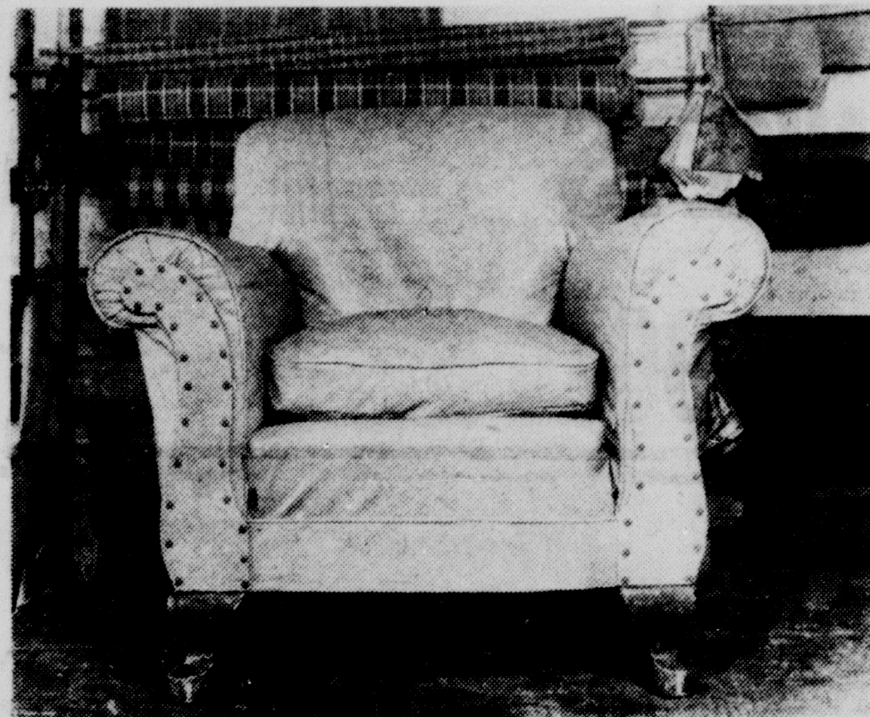

We'd like to be able to give it to them. We are working toward that, and are making some progress despite the continuing heavy demand for telephones from those still without any service.

We have on file thousands of requests for some other type of service. Wherever local conditions permit, we are meeting these requests, and are keeping a careful record of all requests, to act on at the first opportunity.

Miss Redus and Harden Exchange Vows in Double Ring Ceremony Here Early Sunday

In a double ring ceremony performed at 9 o'clock Sunday morning, Miss Ruby Joyce Redus became the bride of Robert Wayne Harden. The wedding took place in the First Methodist Church, and Dr. Will C. House, pastor, read the service.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Redus of Hamlin. She is a graduate of Hamlin High School and of Texas Technological College at Lubbock, where she was a member of Alpha Psi Omega, honorary speech fraternity, and of Sock and Buskin.

Harden is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Harden of Hamlin. He also graduated from Hamlin High School, and later served two years in the armed forces. He attended Texas Technological College for the past two years, and now is a junior in Texas University at Austin.

Miss Redus wore a street length dress of aqua blue silk crepe. Her ornaments were a lavalier and a hand made lace handkerchief. Her flowers were talisman roses, carried atop a white Bible, which was showered with white satin streamers.

Miss Jeannine Johnson, close friend of the bride, was the only attendant for Miss Redus. She wore a dress of rose crepe and carried a bouquet of pale pink asters.

Jack Harden, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. Only members of the families, and close friends attended the wedding.

Mrs. Brad Rowland, at the organ, played softly "I Love You Truly," during the ceremony.

When the couple left for a wedding trip to San Antonio and Corpus Christi, the bride was wearing a champagne shawl suit with navy accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Harden will make their home in Austin, where the bridegroom will continue his studies.

Mrs. John F. Gresh has entered the Hendrick Memorial Hospital in Abilene for treatment.

Mrs. W. C. Russell and Mrs. Raymond Mathis will spend several days this week in Ruidoso, New Mexico, on vacation.

Miss Culbertson Writes Article On Lunchroom for Denton Paper

Miss Joyce Culbertson (daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Culbertson of Hamlin, and a senior student in Texas State College for Women at Denton), wrote an article for the Denton Record-Chronicle last week about school lunchroom service.

Miss Culbertson is majoring in foods and nutrition, and will graduate later this month.

The article follows:

"School days, school days, dear old golden rule days." Yes, in another month Denton's youngsters will be bounding back to school and mothers will be faced with the old problem of arranging for the noon meal.

"The four schools in Denton offer a solution to the problem — the school lunchroom. Here wholesome, economical and appetizing midday meals are served. These meals are planned on the basis of nutritional requirements and the general food preferences of the children.

"Senior Institutional Management and Foods Nutrition majors of Texas State College for Women work under the supervision of Superintendent Chester Strickland and Mrs. Charlotte Clarke. Here in the lunchrooms, the principles of food service and preparation are applied to the management. The menu planning is carried out with the interest of the student in mind. The menus are planned around the general outline of a meat or meat substitute, two vegetables or one vegetable and a salad, hot bread, butter, dessert and milk.

"The students are served additional portions after they have eaten everything on their plates.

"Because of low cost of the meals it is more economical for children to eat in the lunchroom than to bring their own lunches. In the elementary schools the lunches cost 20 cents when bought in a meal ticket and 25 cents when paid for in cash.

"Because of larger portions served in high school, the rates are higher. Here the lunches cost 27 cents on the meal ticket and 30 cents when paid for in cash. Free lunches are served to those who help with work in the lunchroom and to those who are unable to pay for their meals.

"Mixing and mingling of the TSCW lunchroom managers with the students makes for a friendly atmosphere in the lunchroom and this helps to improve eating habits."

Mr. and Mrs. Tate May left Sunday for Dallas, where they met their son, James Tate, for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Carlton, and son, Jerry, spent last week in Carlsbad and Ruidoso, New Mexico, on vacation.

Gleaners Class Has Weiner Roast Tuesday

Members of the Gleaners Sunday school class of the First Baptist Church entertained their husbands and families with a weiner roast in the City Park last Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Bud Trotter, Mrs. Bill Shira and Mrs. Bill Thompson were hostesses for the entertainment. Hot dogs, red beans, potato salad, cookies, cold drinks and roas ed marshmallows were served.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gentry, Mr. and Mrs. James Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Carlton, Mr. and Mrs. George York and daughter, Karen, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Branno, Mr. and Mrs. Teddy Russell, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Turner Jr., and son, Mike, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Burditt, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Treadwell, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Thompson and daughter, Candy, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Shira.

ATTENDS PRESS MEET

Bowen Pope, former publisher of the Hamlin Herald, attended the meeting of the West Texas Press Association in Brownwood last Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Pope was active in the WTPA in the early years of its organization. He served as the second secretary and the third president of the group. An invitation from Wendell Bedcheck, president, could not be turned down by the former editor, who spent the three days hobnobbing with his former associates, and taking part as an ex-member.

Mrs. P. D. Harkins spent last week in Wichita Falls as a guest of her mother, Mrs. May McDonald.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bailey this week are James Bailey and children, Patricia and Betty, of Houston.

How to Beat the Heat Is Discussed For Those Who Suffer in Summer

If the heat doesn't bother you, you may find it hard to understand those who feel and look miserable during the summer months and especially during an intensive heat wave.

There are people who "feel the heat" more than others, and suffer keep cool. But many of us could be more comfortable during the stifling days with a little more attention to "summer health" rules.

Our eating habits these days can do much to restore energy as well as comfort. Everybody needs a well balanced diet no matter what the season. But heavy meals are difficult to digest in hot weather. More fruits and vegetables can be included in meals for hot days. They are easy to digest and are also rich in the vitamins and minerals necessary to well-being.

Perspiration is the body's cooling system, and since the body loses more moisture in hot humid weather, it is wise to drink plenty of water throughout the day to replace the liquid.

Fruit juices also help replace the lost moisture in the body and nourish it at the same time.

Frequent bathing is more important in the summer than at any other time. Extra baths not only keep the skin clean, but also remove the wastes that cause unpleasant odors and eliminate the dirt that clings to the skin in summer and makes it vulnerable to infection.

Loose, light clothing is the best type for summer months. The body "cools off" as the perspiration evaporates on the surface of the skin. Heavy or tight clothing hinders this evaporation.

Everyone should suit his own summer exercise to his particular health and strength. But no one should exercise strenuously in the hottest part of the day or around mealtime. Physical exercise in moderation, out of direct rays of the sun, is the safer rule.
